Washington Paper to Refund 25 Pct. of Tax Penalties

Washington Telegraph Lowers Cost to Taxpayers From 50 to 37 1/2c

ONLY LEGAL PLAN

County Clerk Required by Law to Make 50-Cent Extension

Delinquent taxpayers will be refunded 25 per cent of the printer's penalty on the 1932 tax list publication, which is to be published this month by the Washington Telegraph, it was announced Thursday by the newspaper owner, W. H. Eiler, Jr.

The annual publication was awarded the Washington paper this year by County Clerk Arthur Anderson.

State law requires the county clerk to extend the printer's penalty at 50 cents a tract, to make the land sale valid for tax collection purposes; but the Telegraph, voluntarily pledging a refund of 25 per cent, will cut the net cost to the delinquent taxpayer to 37 1/2 cents per tract.

Mr. Eiler announced that the refund would be made to each individual taxpayer on presentation of tax receipts at the office of the Washington Telegraph (in Washington), any time between the annual July settlement of the county with the newspaper, and January 1, 1933.

Refunds will be made in person only, the many small amounts making it prohibitive to handle the refund by mail.

Mr. Eiler worked out the newspaper refund plan when it was discovered that there was no legal way in which County Clerk Anderson could waive the penalty required by law to be exacted against delinquent taxpayers.

The delinquent tax list will appear in the Telegraph May 26.

Bob Montgomery Is Not a Candidate

North Little Rock Lawyer Fails to File Pledge Before Deadline

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The unsuccessful attempt of R. L. Montgomery, North Little Rock, to have his name placed on the democratic primary ballot Wednesday as a candidate for state treasurer, ended in an otherwise quiet day among the large field of candidates, who prepared to start the campaign which ends August 9.

Montgomery mailed his loyalty pledge and ballot fee at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday, a half hour before the ballot closed, to the party's secretary, J. A. Andrews, at Wynne. Montgomery was in the office of Harvey G. Combs, assistant secretary, where the other candidates had filed, just prior to the closing of the ballot and he did not attempt to file with Combs.

Wednesday night, the central committee chairman, Lamar Williamson of Monticello, instructed Combs to return Montgomery's fee and pledge with the explanation it was received after the ballot had closed.

Williamson's action leaves State Treasurer Roy V. Leonard without an opponent, unless Montgomery decides to appeal from his action, which lies with the central committee. He could not be reached for a statement as to his plans, but friends said they thought he would abandon an attempt to get his name on the ticket. Montgomery was runner up in the race two years ago.

Attorney General Hal L. Norwood, a candidate for re-election, issued his first statement Wednesday in the interests of his candidacy, pointing to his record of not having been defeated in any civil case appealed to the supreme court, and not having won 90 per cent of the criminal cases before the supreme court.

"I do not want the support of the voters unless they think I will make a better attorney general than either of my opponents," Norwood's statement said. "You should select your attorney general just as though you were selecting an attorney to look after your own private and personal matters."

Cannot Return Defendant on "Information"

AUSTIN.—(P)—The court of criminal appeals Wednesday held that Governor R. S. Sterling could not honor a requisition for return to another state of a defendant sought merely on information.

T. H. (Cydone) Johnson, of Gregg county, appealed from procedure in which Governor Sterling had honored a requisition of the state of Oklahoma for Johnson's return to Hugo, Okla., to answer a charge of disposing of mortgaged property. Johnson was ordered discharged.

Plan Longest Hop in Tiniest Plane

There's a world of flying ahead for Mr. and Mrs. Uli Richter, German aviators. They're pictured here as they arrived in New York to prepare for a globe-circling air voyage in quest of the prize of 10,000 marks which German President Paul Von Hindenburg has offered for the longest flight in the smallest plane.

Means Released On $50,000 Bond

Detective Accused in Alleged $104,000 Fraud Driven to Home

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Gaston B. Means, under indictment charging embezzlement of $104,000 from Mrs. Edward B. McLean, and under suspicion in connection with allegations that he mulcted as much from another society woman by promising anti-Communist protection, was free Wednesday night on $50,000 bail. Justice James M. Proctor ordered his release on bonds in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Means stepped into his own limousine and was driven with his youthful wife toward their handsome suburban residence. His most emphatic declaration was:

"I'm going home."

He must appear Friday for arraignment under the indictments returned yesterday. He spent six days in jail following his arrest after secret investigation of complaints by Mrs. McLean, estranged wife of the Washington Post's publisher, that he appropriated the money she paid him to bring back the kidnapped Lindbergh baby.

Suicide to Evade Quiz in Murder

Shoots Self to Death After Implication in Woman's Death

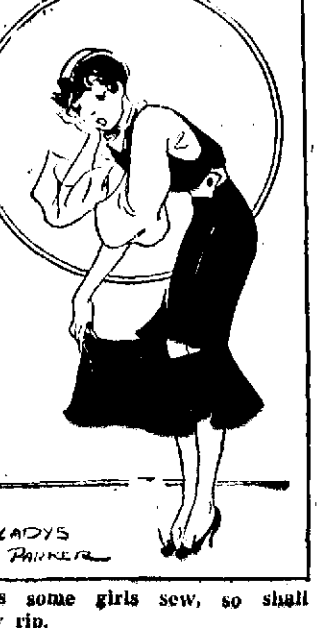

WOCSTER, Ohio.—(P)—The suicide of a 19-year-old youth after he was implicated in a murder confession by his brother-in-law provided a crashing climax early Wednesday to an investigation of the slaying of the brother-in-law's wife.

The accused youth, Harold Young, fired a shotgun charge into his head just as officers arrived at his home, near here, to arrest him. His death came less than an hour after Herbert Meeker, a Wayne county farmer, named Young as the actual slayer of Meeker's wife.

Sheriff John Stevens of Holmes county said Meeker also implicated himself.

The nude body of Meeker's young wife, Gertrude, was found Monday in a creek near Millersburg. She had been killed by blows on the head.

Mooring of Akron Claims Two Lives

Third Seaman Rescued After Companions Fall From Landing Ropes

CAMP KEARNY, Cal.—(P)—Misfortune dogging the navy dirigible Akron across the continent ended in tragedy here Wednesday as two members of the ground crew attempting to moor her were swept aloft and dashed to death when they lost their grip on the landing ropes.

A spectacular rescue, that thrilled 10,000 onlookers saved a third member of the ground crew, Bud Cowart, 49, of Sand Springs, Okla., who also had been swept aloft by a sudden upsurge of the great bag. He was hauled up into the Akron after dangling from a rope for two hours as the great ship maneuvered in an effort to land him. Women screamed and men wept as Cowart dangled precariously a half mile above the crowd.

The climax to the westward crossing of the Akron, which left Lakehurst, N. J., early Sunday on its first transcontinental trip, came during efforts to make an emergency mooring at Camp Kearny after a voyage harried by storms.

Several attempts to bring the great skyliner down had been made by a determined ground crew when upward currents suddenly caught the great ship.

Robert Edfall and Nigel Henton, both of the San Diego Naval Training Station, and Cowart clung to the landing line to the horror of the watching throng as the Akron surged upward. Edfall and Henton lost their grip and fell to death but Cowart clung on.

Upward the great ship swept with Cowart dangling on the line 300 feet below the dirigible. A height of 2,000 feet was reached but Cowart maintained his precarious grip. Through bumpy air the Akron sailed but Cowart clung on.

"Will try to land man on tail rope," was the crisp message Commander C. E. Rosendahl dropped to the ground.

Cowart at that time had been hanging to the rope for more than an hour. He held on with a "wooden hand," used by members of the ground crew to grip the landing cables. He also had a foothold on the line.

Vaccine Tests On Convicts Proposed

Physician Urges Pardons for Condemned Criminals in Yellow Fever Tests

NEW ORLEANS.—(P)—Dr. Bolivar J. Lloyd, medical director for the United States Public Health Service, Wednesday created a sensation before a session of the American Medical Association when he proposed the use of condemned criminals to perfect experiments in yellow fever vaccines, suggesting pardons for those surviving the tests.

The scientists composing the section on preventive and industrial medicine and public health, however, apparently did not take the suggestion seriously and after a buzz of surprise, smiled and took no action on the proposal.

Dr. Wilbur A. Sawyer, of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, on whose paper on yellow fever immunization Dr. Lloyd was speaking, alone answered the suggestion with the comment:

"We hope all our questions can be answered without the use of human volunteers."

Governor Sterling to Seek Re-election in Texas Primary

Public Announcement Expected to Be Released Within Short Time

PLANS KEPT VEILED

Information Made Known Late Wednesday at Tyler Meeting

AUSTIN, Texas.—(P)—Governor R. S. Sterling Wednesday broke a long silence with reference to his attitude toward a second term and announced he planned to be a candidate in the July democratic primaries.

The governor's announcement was wired from Fort Worth, where he was enroute to Sweetwater to attend the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He sent this message to his secretary, Paul Wakefield, who relayed it to the capital press room:

To Announce Soon

"I plan to announce my candidacy for governor in the next few days setting forth my platform in detail," Governor R. S. Sterling.

Likely reasons for sudden decision to put voters on notice he would make the race for re-election were cause of intense speculation at the capital. He had steadfastly guarded his intentions and had been successful in keeping politicians guessing for a number of weeks. When asked about the likelihood of a campaign for re-election, he made carefully worded and non-informative replies.

Interest was displayed in the action of the Potter county democratic convention at Amarillo Wednesday in urging State Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo to become a candidate for governor. Small had repeatedly stated he would not be a candidate if Governor Sterling were to ask for the customary second term, but on a recent visit to Austin he expressed impatience at the delay of the governor's announcement.

Information that the governor had made his decision was obtained earlier in the day by the Tyler Courier-Times which said Sterling would announce his entry to the race in the next 24 hours.

School Official Beaten By Pair

Old Feud Said to Have Caused Horsewhipping of Superintendent

EL DORADO.—(P)—N. Powell, Columbia county school superintendent, was horsewhipped in his office at Magnolia Wednesday morning by Capt. Joe L. Davis, Jr., and W. A. G. Woodruff, who were arrested by a deputy sheriff immediately after the attack. It was learned here Wednesday night.

Speakers said the assault was a result of a long standing dispute between Joe L. Davis Sr., former member of the Columbia county School Board, and Powell, who has been in office at Magnolia since 1926.

The senior Davis is said to have made uncompromising remarks about Powell before a mass meeting of taxpayers Saturday night. Powell is alleged to have knocked the elder Davis down Monday morning.

The young Davis, who is captain of Company B of the Arkansas National Guard, and Woodruff, son-in-law of the elder Davis, walked into Powell's office Wednesday morning, and began whipping him. Powell's secretary, Mrs. M. M. Simpson, ran into a courtroom where a hearing was going on, and shouted, "They are whipping Mr. Powell to death."

The court session was broken up, and a deputy sheriff separated the men. The younger Davis and Woodruff were charged with assault and their trial was continued until Saturday, according to Prosecuting Attorney Joe Joiner, "in order to prevent further trouble at this time."

Kiwanis to Visit Ozan Friday Night

Hope Civic Club Will Present Speaker and String Band

All arrangements for the Kiwanis Good Will trip to Ozan Friday night were completed Thursday by Dewey Hendrix, chairman of this committee. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock at the school house in Ozan. All citizens of that section of the county are invited to attend.

John P. Cox is to act as master of ceremonies, and W. S. Atkins is to deliver the principal speech. John Riddell and his five-piece string band will furnish the music. Leffel Gentry will lead community singing.

State Political Notes

(By Associated Press)

The only woman holding an elective state office—Mrs. Belva Martin, state land commissioner, is not a candidate for renomination.

Closing of the entry lists without her name was the first indication she would retire voluntarily. Three candidates are in the race to succeed her—William L. DeCamp, Little Rock; George W. Neal, Murfreesboro, and Ed P. Rosser, Russellville.

Mrs. Martin, sister of Dwight H. Blackwood, chairman of the state Highway Commission, was first appointed land commissioner after the 1929 legislature separated the office from that of highway commissioner and made the later appointive. Mrs. Martin was elected to the office in 1930.

Only one congressman—W. J. Driver, veteran representative of the first district—is unopposed for renomination.

A free-for-all fight is in prospect in the fourth district following the decision of Rep. Edigene Wingo to retire. Five candidates are seeking to succeed him. They are A. D. Delaney, state insurance commissioner, whose home is at Ashdown; Ben Cravens of Fort Smith, former congressman; Prosecuting Attorney Harney McGeehe of Van Buren; Seth C. Reynolds, also of Ashdown; and W. E. Zeuch, former director of Commonwealth College, labor institution near Mena.

H. M. Jacobway of Little Rock, former congressman, filed at the last minute as a candidate against Congressman Heartfield Ragon. Oscar H. Winn of Little Rock also is a candidate.

Hugh Williamson of Newport, former prosecuting attorney who opposed Congressman John E. Miller in the second district two years ago, is a candidate against him again.

Cotton Belt Bus Wrecks at Camden

One Passenger Injured—Air Line Breaks, Driver Loses Control

CAMDEN, Ark.—(P)—A Cotton Belt bus, struck a telephone pole, injuring Mrs. Margaret Harris, 60, of Pasadena, California, here Thursday morning. Twenty-eight passengers escaped uninjured and continued the journey to Memphis.

A defective air line caused the driver to lose control of the heavy machine while attempting to negotiate a street corner.

6 Jurors Selected For Mason's Trial

Ashdown Man Faces Bar on Assault Count in Attack on Wife

ASHDOWN, Ark.—Six jurors to try L. P. Mason, prominent Foreman real estate operator, on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with an attack upon his wife, had been selected when Little River county circuit court recessed late Wednesday.

Mason entered a plea of not guilty and went to trial shortly after the noon recess. Thirty-five veniremen had been examined with only half of the jury being selected.

The real estate operator is charged with attacking his wife with a steak pounder after becoming angry while she was cooking breakfast January 16. Mrs. Mason remained in a serious condition at a Texarkana hospital several weeks after she had been beaten into unconsciousness.

During the morning session of the court, George and William Riley were convicted of hog theft and given one year each in the state penitentiary. A charge of burglary and grand larceny against Jim Tongs and Floyd House was reduced to petit larceny and both defendants pleaded guilty. They were fined $25 each and sentenced to two days in jail.

Plans For Economic and Unemployment Relief Is Discussed

Hope to Put New Ideas Into Concrete Form Is Expressed

GARNER IS FOR PLAN

Meeting With Reconstruction Finance Corporation Officials Also Held

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Pres. Hoover announced Thursday that he and Senator Robinson of Arkansas had discussed the plan of Robinson and the plans of the president to provide relief and stimulate employment, and expressed hope of putting all of them into concrete form.

He sought to simplify proposals to open a way for a unified Congressional action.

The president expressed appreciation for Robinson's action in opening a way for non-partisan consideration. Conferences were held with members of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other high government officials on relief plans at the White House.

Speaker Garner endorsed the plan of the Reconstruction Corporation as an aid to states and cities.

Meets Finance Body

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Pres. Hoover and members of the Board of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Thursday considered amendments to the reconstruction act to allow states to borrow money to meet unemployment relief needs.

It was understood, however, that the matter of loaning money to municipalities was not taken up at the meeting Thursday morning.

Suggests Truce in Liquor Cases

North Dakota Judge, at Texarkana, Objects to Hearing "Petty" Cases

TEXARKANA, Ark.—(P)—A truce on "petty liquor cases" by the federal government was suggested here Wednesday by Federal Judge Andrew Miller of Fargo, N. D., who is filling temporarily the place left vacant by the death recently of Judge Frank A. Youmans of Fort Smith.

His suggestions followed numerous pleas of guilty to prohibition law violations, which were punished with sentences ranging up to 30 days in jail.

"I have come a thousand miles to help out this term of court, and it seems incongruous to me the government should pay my expenses here and back to listen to a lot of petty prohibition cases," Judge Miller said. "None amounts to anything and the government is even apologizing for them and recommending leniency."

"These cases could be handled in state courts at one-fourth of the federal costs. I suggest that in the absence of a regular federal judge, the prohibition agents take these cases in to county and state courts, and not pile up the federal docket, especially with so much talk of economy and balancing the budget."

Assistant District Attorney G. T. Sullins suggested to Judge Miller that the states also are trying to balance their budgets.

The federal grand jury, which convened Monday, adjourned Wednesday after returning 18 indictments, majority of which charge violations of the prohibition laws.

Alleged Slayer Is Released on Bond

Tom Dean Charged With Murder, Furnishes $2,000 Bond

MAGNOLIA.—Tom Dean, charged with the murder of John Stocks Saturday afternoon at the Dean home, five miles northeast of Wado, waived examination and was released late Wednesday on habeas corpus proceedings by Judge W. E. Spear of El Dorado following the taking of affidavits to El Dorado by an attorney for Dean. He was released on a $2,000 bond.

Archie Kelley, arrested at the same time and jailed here, had an examining trial Wednesday morning and was released by Justice S. J. Matthews, who held the evidence was not sufficient to hold him.

The Star's Platform

Apply the revenues of the municipal power plant to develop the industrial and social resources of Hope.

Move city pavement in 1932, and improved sanitary conditions in the alleys and business back-yards.

Support the Chamber of Commerce.

COUNTY

A county highway program providing for the construction of a certain amount of all-weather road each year, to gradually reduce the dirt-road mileage.

Political and economic support for every scientific agricultural program which offers practical benefits to Hempstead county's greatest industry.

Encourage farmer organizations, believing that co-operative effort is practical in the country as it is in town.

STATE

Continued progress on the state highway program.

Efficient tax reform, and a more efficient government through the proper system of expenditures.

A Good Example

ONE of the most interesting governmental and economic experiments that has come out of the depression is reported from Canada, where the local governments of six small towns that have gone bankrupt are being taken over by the province of Ontario, under a new law.

In effect, these six local governments are going into the hands of receivers appointed by the province. A board of control composed of two representatives of the municipality, two representatives of the banks, two representatives of the bondholders and creditors and one representative of the province will attempt to straighten out the tangled financial affairs of each municipality.

Each board will have full power to hire and fire municipal employees, treat with bondholders and creditors and sign all checks. The town councilmen must obey the orders of the board or face heavy fines: if councilmen dare spend money without the approval of the board they will be personally liable to suits for the recovery of such moneys.

By dint of close supervision and efficiency in administration, the boards are expected to pull the cities out of their financial plight.

Such a plan seems well worth while. Insolvent business firms go into the hands of receivers for the protection of their stockholders and there seems to be no good reason why insolvent cities should not go into the hands of receivers for the protection of their taxpayers instead of letting the same gang of politicians continue to fritter away the public's money and increase the city's debt.

Consider, for example, what a board of receivers appointed by the state of Illinois might have been able to accomplish in Chicago.

Which Reminds Us—

ABOUT twenty-five years ago circumstances placed J. M. Futrell temporarily in the governor's office. Our now Senator Joe T. Robinson had been elected governor, but there was a vacancy in the United States senate, and Governor Robinson resigned the governorship and took the higher place. Futrell was president of the senate and automatically became governor, until he could call an election. He was not a candidate in the election.

But while holding the office of governor there had been a man tried in Hot Springs for the murder of his wife, was convicted and sentenced to hang. An appeal was taken to Governor Futrell, after the courts had been resorted to without success. It was represented to Governor Futrell that the man was insane.

Now Governor Futrell knew that the Arkansas law, nor any other law, contemplated the execution of an insane man, but he didn't do anything at the time the experts and scientists presented their cause.

While later this writer learned that Governor Futrell had come quietly and unannounced into Hot Springs, had gone to the sheriff's office, had asked for an interview with the convicted man. Before the convicted man or any other man had opportunity to be on guard, the governor was in the county jail talking to the convicted man.

After some conversation, and when the convicted man did not know who he was talking to the governor retired. Later he announced he would not interfere with the sentence of the courts. "The man doesn't appear to be insane" was about all Governor Futrell had to say.

He is that sort of man, and now that he has acceded to the call of friends to run for governor we recall the solidly built little freckled man from eastern Arkansas who was governor but a short time, but who assumed every obligation and discharged it when he was chief executive. We liked the way he made his own personal investigation in a case where a man's life was at stake.

We have no idea what the political fortunes of Arkansas will be, or misfortunes, when the August election is over, but we know that honor and integrity and ability lie along any path that J. M. Futrell follows.—Hot Springs Sentinel-Record.

Advice to Business Men

BUSINESS men, worrying about the depression and reduced sales, might pause for a moment and consider the remarks of Samuel T. Gilbert of Detroit, one of the nation's largest cigar manufacturers.

Says Mr. Gilbert:

"One of the great mistakes people are making nowadays is failure to advertise just because times are bad. You've got to keep advertising if you want to sell. There's only one thing selling in American today. That's liquor—and it's being advertised from hand to mouth by everybody. Liquor is the biggest business in America."

Yes, business men with goods to sell might stop worrying over reduced sales for a moment and consider what Mr. Gilbert has to say. Then, if they acted on his advice, they wouldn't have so much to worry about.

Cotton in Fashion For This Season

Variety of Weaves and Fabrics Introduced for Modish Wear.

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Cotton in all its variety will be in fashion this season. For morning wear there are trim little frocks, most of them sleeveless, one piece affairs, of striped or figured cotton, or of smart rough weaves in plain colors.

For street and semi-dressed-up occasions in the country, there are suits of white fancy weaves and frocks of lace or sheer mesh weaves.

Afternoon dresses are made of pique, a fabric which will be seen at many evening functions also. Organ-die, embroidered with colored flowers and other smart patterns, lace, and rick are dainty and quite smart.

Cotton hats are also in vogue, the daytime and sports chapeaux made of pique, gingham and other weaves, the dress hats made of starched organdie, cotton lace, or mesh.

Shoes, bags, gloves, occasional jackets, even lingerie will be featured in cotton during the season.

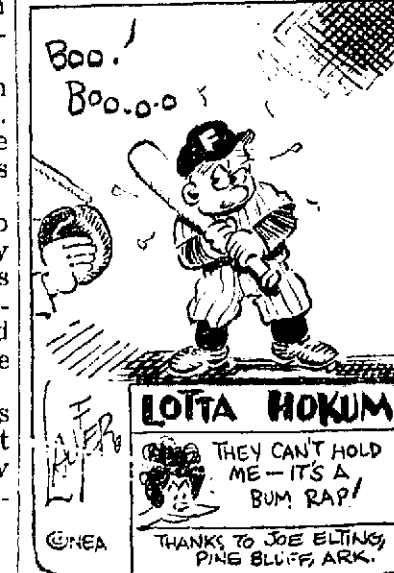

Linen is a close favorite and there are a number of other washable fabrics which will be selected by smart women for a summer wardrobe that will boast of economy and cool chic.

Louisiana Power Profits Revealed

Appreciation of Capital Values, High Returns, Outlined at Hearing

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rates of return on the fixed capital of the Louisiana Power and Light Company both before and after the deduction of a net appreciation of capital values of $8,645,845.04 were described Tuesday at a Federal Trade Commission hearing.

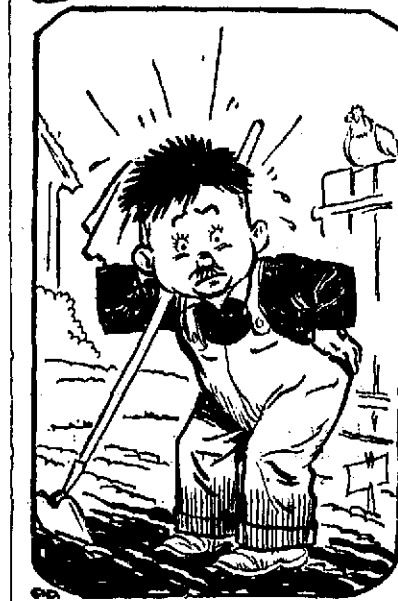

Testifying at the conclusion of hearings on the Louisiana company, Charles R. Taylor, commission examiner, said the fixed capital of the Louisiana Power and Light Company at its organization August 1, 1921, was placed at $19,299,574.62.

The fixed capital on the books of the predecessor companies which the Louisiana was organized to consolidate was $9,627,354.80, he said. There was deducted from the gross appreciation of fixed capital values of approximately $9,672,000, the sum of $1,026,974.98, representing "intangible values" which were on the books of the old companies and which were not included on the books of the Louisiana, Taylor said.

Responding to questions by Robert E. Healy, the commission's chief lawyer, he estimated the rates of return on fixed capital as recorded on the books of the company and with depreciation, rents and all taxes deducted, at 7.95 per cent for 1930, 7.50 per cent for 1929, and 6.25 per cent for 1928. With the fixed capital appreciation deducted, the percentages of return for these three years on fixed capital were 11.72, 11.65 and 10.53 respectively, Taylor said.

Her success won her an offer of a regular place in the stock company's cast. Her husband is now in Russia discussing improvement of the cattle industry with Soviet officials. Mrs. Lamont is pictured here in dress of role.

My speech was rather lengthy, I am afraid," said the young statesman; "but I assure you that it contains numerous gems of thought."

"Perhaps," replied Senator Sorghum. "But I have never allowed myself to take the slightest interest in these stories of buried treasure."

Tank Car Service Station Formally Opens, Third and Elm

Business Women to Have Hand in Station Opening

Formal Program to Inaugurate Service at the New Station Friday, With Club Women Participating in Opening Sales

In announcing the opening of the new Certified Service Station of the Wilkerson Oil Company, Mr. Wilkerson, president of the company, has enlisted the aid of the Business & Professional Women's Club of this city.

The plan, according to Mr. Wilkerson, is to have members of the club distribute cards to their friends asking them to participate in the cash receipts of the gasoline sold. The Business and Professional Women's Club will receive so much per gallon on the three grade of gasoline, namely, Thrift, Certified, and Certified Plus. The club will also have a share in the oil changes sold at the regular retail price.

According to Mrs. Frank Russell, president of the club, she expects a large number of Hope motorists to help the club by getting cards from the members.

During the formal opening Friday and Saturday the public is extended a cordial invitation to visit this new and modern service station, complete in every detail. Enlisting the newest type of equipment it offers to the motorists of Hope a most economical method of buying quality merchandise.

A. and M. Will Hold Barbecue Tuesday Night

MAGNOLIA—Magnolia A. and M. College alumni, former students, their husbands, wives, mothers, father and children have been invited to attend the alumni barbecue, Thursday, May 12 on the college campus. The meal will be served at 6 p. m. after which there will be speaking by former students and music by the Magnolia A. and M. blue and gold band.

Members of the graduating classes of the college and high school departments will be initiated in the Former Students Association at 4 p. m.

The speakers are Dolph Camp, Searcy, Garland Pearce and Henry B. Whitley of Magnolia.

Certified Gas and Oil Products Are Declared Superior

Wilkerson Products Made to Standard at Refining Plant

INDEPENDENT FIRM

Pennsylvania Lubricating Oil Delivered in Tank Car Lots

"All products sold by the Wilkerson Oil Co. are bought strictly on specifications. Certified gasoline and Certified motor oils must be good and made to specified standards or they are refused at our plant," Mr. Wilkerson states.

The thrifty motorist welcomes this assurance of good gasoline and motor oil bought at a great saving, says F. E. Wilkerson, head of the company that bears his name. Not only does every gallon bear the trade name "Certified" but one of the oldest names in the oil business in Louisiana and Arkansas is behind every sale, he declared.

"Our company certifies that every gallon of gasoline sold through our branded pumps meets or exceeds specifications set by the United States bureau of standards for U. S. motor gasoline. These rigid and inflexible standards set by the federal government must meet these specifications.

"By special arrangement with one of the largest and oldest Pennsylvania refineries the Wilkerson Oil Co. buys its premium grade motor oil in tank car lots. The oil is strictly 100 percent pure Pennsylvania motor oil and is sold under the trade name of Certified Penn. Certified Penn is the best motor oil money can buy—bar none; in specifications it ranks with the best," declares Mr. Wilkerson. The oil sells for the regular price instead of the usual premium.

The Wilkerson Oil Co. is "independent," with no connections with major oil companies. All oils and gasolines are bought in tank car quantities and according to specifications. The slogan of the company is "From Tank Car to Your Car," this eliminates three expensive handlings, bulk plant, tank trucks, and credits.

Seeks License for 27-Year-Old Automobile

CHICAGO—(AP)—These modern automobiles are fine but they build some real cars back in 1905 too.

Peter Esslinger bought one of the 1905 variety for $10 and Tuesday applied for a state license. It'll still do 35 to 40 miles an hour.

"When the manufacturers learned that I had bought the machine they offered me a brand new auto for it," Esslinger said. "But I turned down the proposition. I intend to run this car until it falls apart—or I do."

A museum offered him $20 for it, but he declined that offer too.

Hope Men Will Be Station Managers

Joe Coleman, Manager, With Fonsie Moses Assisting

Two local men will be salesmen at the new Wilkerson Oil company's Certified Service station located at Third and Elm Streets.

Joe Coleman will be manager, and will be assisted by Fonsie Moses. Both have had considerable experience in oil marketing.

"We feel that in the selection of Mr. Coleman and Mr. Moses as salesmen for our company in Hope that we have picked two men who will serve the motoring public," Mr. Wilkerson stated. "Besides the fact that ours is quality merchandise... we feature real service and we pride ourselves upon the speed with which that service is rendered," he further stated.

When asked, Mr. Coleman stated that he wanted every motorist in Hope and the surrounding trade territory to give Certified products a chance to prove themselves... "not only will the merchandise sell itself but every motorist will save himself actual dollars and cents by using Certified products," he said.

Anti-Knock Gas to Be Certified Fuel

Eliminates Carbon and Compression Knock, Says Wilkerson

The new Wilkerson Oil Company will offer as its premium fuel a natural anti-knock gasoline, branded "Certified Plus" according to an announcement Thursday at the station headquarters at Third and Elm street, site of their new station.

"Certified Plus" will be pure, sweet gasoline refined from selected crudes. It will contain no chemical compounds not naturally found in gasoline. For purposes of identification it will be colored red and sold from white pumps. The pump globes will also bear the name of the product.

This premium fuel will be specially refined to give maximum performance in high compression motors. It will eliminate carbon and compression knock and act against the formation of carbon. Its use will result in smoother and better performance.

Certified Plus has an octane number of 71 or better, which is unusually high, according to Mr. Wilkerson. "Octane number" is the new standard for measurement of the anti-knock value of gasoline, recently adopted by the refining profession. Popular premium fuels on the market, selling from three to four cents over the regular brands, range from 65 up in octane number.

The Wilkerson Oil Co. plans to sell Certified Plus at a slight premium over the regular "certified" gasoline.

Three Retired By Missouri Pacific

W. J. Kiernan, Mark Siepiela and Andrew Muldrow Long in Service

LITTLE ROCK—Three veteran employees of the Missouri Pacific Lines have been retired on pensions, local railway officials announced Tuesday.

The three men have been connected with the railroad company for many years in North Little Rock, where they live.

The retired veterans are: William J. Kiernan, aged 64, 121 West Fourth street; Mark Siepiela, 1700 Willow street; and Andrew Muldrow, aged 76, 509 West Twenty-sixth street.

Mr. Kiernan was a foreman on the Arkansas Division at the time of his retirement. He entered the service of the company in 1903, serving in several capacities for the past 29 years.

Mr. Siepiela, who was a crossing watchman at the time of his retirement, served the company for 38 years. Mr. Muldrow entered the service of the Missouri Pacific in 1886 and at the time of his retirement was a store helper.

They're still talking about what the Democratic party owes John J. Raskob. And there are those who say that regardless of what the amount is, it is small compared to what the Republicans owe him.

Women Drivers to Like New Station

Wide Sweeping Entrances Provided From Two Streets

The new Certified Service Station is especially designed to appeal to women drivers who constitute the majority of Hope's gasoline-buying public, according to Mr. Wilkerson.

Years of experience have proven that women motorists like wide sweeping entrances and driveways, many preferring to patronize stations blocks out of their way to avoid an awkward drive-in. Mr. Wilkerson points out that the new Certified station has large, sweeping drives and that the women motorists will have no trouble in getting into or getting out of the new station.

Women drivers may enter from any angle on Elm street or Third street without dodging station architecture which might scratch or mar the finish of their cars. This feature of construction has proven immensely popular in the North and East, according to oil marketing authorities.

The rest room, always a feature in demand by the fairer sex, is most modern in appointments, boasting a large plate glass mirror, hat and coat hangers, and up-to-date plumbing fixtures. More important than any furnishings the room may have, though, is the rigid code of cleanliness which the oil company promises to enforce. The battery of six fast electrically operated pumps, with large dials clearly visible from the customer's car seat, probably will also meet with the approval of the feminine contingent.

This means the driver can check the gasoline delivery into her tank without having to leave the seat. The pumps, representing the last word in gasoline dispensers, deliver 16 gallons per minute, making speedy service possible.

Mr. Wilkerson also promises that the more fastidious sex will be pleased with the cleanliness of the uniformed salesmen, who will make a point of seeing that every woman motorist is served so satisfactorily that she will bring new customers to the Certified station.

New Station Has Largest Drive-in

Seventh of an Acre Provided on Property of Wilkerson Oil Co.

"We are going to save motorists of Hope money on their gasoline and motor oil," Mr. Wilkerson stated Thursday. Yet we will always maintain a high standard quality on all of our merchandise.

The Wilkerson system of marketing, upon which this new business is founded, is that the automobile being owned must visit a service station strategically located to give economical service, at less expense than an oil company can build a station next door to its owner.

"People appreciate values and look for them, the motorist now wants his money's worth. They are going to buy wisely, buy quality—not trash—with plenty of respect for the purchasing power of the penny," Mr. Wilkerson claims. "We are going to advertise our plan to the skies as one that saves the motorist money on quality products."

The Wilkerson Oil company's slogan is "From Tank Car to Your Car." The slogan emphasizing the fact that all certified stations eliminate that costly middle-handling.

Capturer of Fleagle Gang Visits in Mena

MENA—Sheriff L. E. Alderman of Lamar, Colo., one of the most widely known peace officers in the United States, made his first visit to Mena, Monday.

Sheriff Alderman won nationwide fame a few years ago by his pursuit and capture of the notorious Fleagle gang of bank robbers, three of whom were hanged in Colorado, and Jake Fleagle, the leader, shot to death while resisting arrest near Springfield, Mo. The Colorado officer motored here to get J. H. Rene, arrested by Sheriff John E. Joplin, while visiting relatives near Alder Springs. Rene was taken back to Lamar to answer a charge of operating a confidence game.

New Type Station Offers Big Saving To All Motorists

Easier for Car to Find Station Than to Bring Station to Car

"MIDDLE-MAN" OUT

Direct Sales Policy Inaugurated by Wilkerson Oil Company

The new orange-and-black open air station of the Wilkerson Oil company boasts the largest paved drive-in space in Hope, with a concrete area of over a seventh of an acre.

The management believes the wide drives free of unnecessary obstruction will prove inviting to local motorists. The ample space, together with the battery of six electrically operated meter pumps, will enable the station to serve quickly every car that drives in, even at peak hours. The pumps are of the latest construction, delivering 16 gallons per minute. A 14-inch dial makes the amount delivered into the car plainly visible from the driver's seat.

Each pump is equipped with a visible attachment, so the customer can actually see the gasoline enter the delivery hose. Automatic calculators on each unit will figure the amount of each purchase, up to 15 gallons, making it unnecessary for the customer to wait. The salesman will carry enough change to make change at the point of sale in most cases.

Nothing has been spared, it seems, to make service at the certified station as fast and convenient as modern marketing makes possible.

Motor Oil Comes in Handy Package

6-Quart Tin Featured by Wilkerson for Quick Crankcase Change

With the opening of the new Certified Service station, Elm at Third street, the Wilkerson Oil company announces a new Certified Motor Oil designed for good lubrication at a very low cost.

According to Mr. Wilkerson, head of the company which bears his name, "We've gone into the oil business to give the motorist a chance to save himself real money on good and proper lubrication. Certified Motor Oil is being marketed at all of our stations in handy easy-pour cans. The average motorist can realize a tremendous saving by using this oil and draining his own crankcase."

The oil is being packed in a handy 6-quart size as well as a 5-gallon size. Arrangements have been made by one of the south's largest refiners to supply this oil. Every can is sealed and bears a written guarantee to the effect that "Certified Motor Oil is guaranteed. It will give your motor good lubrication at a very low cost."

This guarantee is signed by F. E. Wilkerson.

Wilkerson Oil Co. Launch New Plan of Oil Marketing

Orange and Black Station in Hope Will Feature Unloading of Gasoline Direct From Tank Car to New Local Retail Filling Station

When the orange and black service station of the Wilkerson Oil Company formally opens for business Friday morning at Elm and Third streets, an entirely new system of oil marketing will be presented to Hope's motoring public.

Because he believes "the average American is spending his money more wisely today than at any time since the war," F. E. Wilkerson, former sales-manager of one of the South's largest oil companies, has founded his own business to market gasoline and motor oil according to his own theory, which is that the automobile being on wheels can visit a service station at less expense than the oil company can build a station next door to him.

According to Mr. Wilkerson the principles on which this new station and other stations of his company are run are entirely new to the oil business. The new company will buy its products in tank car lots and market direct to the consumer. The stocks will be unloaded from tank car direct to the tanks at the station, eliminating bulk plants, gasoline trucks, and other unnecessary overhead expense.

The savings thus effected will be passed on to the company's customers, he said.

The Wilkerson Oil Co. will be "independent" with no connections with major oil companies. The station has storage for more than four tank-car loads of gasoline and oil and will buy to meet its own specifications, which are said to meet or exceed those for United States motor gasoline as set by the United States bureau of standards.

Products of the company will be sold under the trade name "Certified."

Associated with the Wilkerson Oil Company will be Joe Coleman, formerly with Hope and Fonsie Moses, who has had considerable experience in oil marketing.

Every Motorist Should Read This

Sound economics teach that the elimination of unnecessary handling means a saving. It is a proven fact that gasoline and motor oil can be marketed at considerably less expense if a proper mechanical set-up is worked out. With the basic idea of an economical set-up, and proper merchandising, the Wilkerson Oil Company was organized.

For the last five years major oil companies have striven by might and main to tie-up, under contract, dealer outlets. They acquired with reckless abandon numbers of outlets for their products—BUT THEY FORGOT THE COST OF OPERATION. They placed pumps at practically every store—every corner—every business, under a binding contract. They took gallonage from profitable stations to these smaller outlets and as a result they are operating these places at a loss AND THE MOTORING PUBLIC IS CALLED UPON TO SUSTAIN THESE LOSSES BY PAYING MORE MONEY FOR GASOLINE AND OIL DUE ENTIRELY TO A FALACIOUS MARKETING POLICY.

The Wilkerson Oil Company has no "dead-head" locations. Our entire marketing system is confined to one location. We buy our oils and gasoline in tank car lots and unload them at our service stations. We eliminate that costly middle-handling. Yet we sell

CERTIFIED gasoline; uncontaminated by extra handling; certified to meet or exceed U. S. Motor specifications as authorized by the United States Bureau of Standards; and, above all, SAVE YOU MONEY BY OUR SOUND, ECONOMIC BASIS OF OPERATION.

The Wilkerson system of marketing, "From Tank Car to Your Car," is saving thousands of motorists money on their gasoline and oil. We eliminate bulk plants; tank trucks; credits; collections; and losses in bad accounts.

The elimination of these expensive operations with the consequent loss in handling through exaporation and leakage, enables us to sell at lower prices than voluntarily posted by the major oil companies and still make a fair margin of profit.

The products handled by the Wilkerson Oil Company are absolutely guaranteed—we've built our business on quality merchandise and we will always handle first-grade petroleum products. Also, our specifications will meet or exceed competitive products GRADE FOR GRADE.

To every motorist—Try our plan for one month and compare the cost. Those of you who are buying on credit—try our cash plan and cease paying the cost of credit departments and bad accounts. Buy quality, economically—you'll like it.

A Tribute to Arkansas

Dr. Barton, author of "The Man Nobody Knows," has written this tribute to Arkansas for the "Parade of the States" Monday night program of the General Motors Corporation, part of an educational plan to make the country as a whole better acquainted with the individual states—their history, scenic beauty, industries and people.

THEY call it the "Wonder State," and they have named it well. Much of the nation's hard wood is out from its forests; its oil fields are enormous. Out of its soil comes every form of mineral wealth from aluminum to diamonds—yes, diamonds—and almost every crop that can be grown anywhere in our land. Does the West boast of its wheat and corn and alfalfa? Arkansas has them all. Is the South proud of its cotton and rice? They belong to Arkansas, too. Do the northern and the eastern states glory in the fruit of their orchards? Arkansas has originated more than fifty varieties of apples; it has the largest peach orchard in the United States. And there is another kind of treasure in this land that once belonged to the Arkansas Indians, a treasure more precious than that for which the Spaniards dug. The fame of it has been carried around the world; from every lands men and women make their pilgrimage to find in the active waters of Hot Springs the glorious gift of health. As far back as 1832, the national government recognized that the springs were too precious for private ownership. In that year they, and the acres around them, were set aside as the first of our national parks.

Upon the rich foundations of Nature's bounty an ambitious and gracious people have erected a mighty commonwealth. "The People Rule" is her motto, and true to it she was one of the first states to enact a minimum wage law for the protection of her workers and among the first to adopt a public school system.

Only two women have ever sat in the United States Senate and Mrs. Hattie Caraway of Arkansas is one of them—the only elected woman senator and the only woman in that body today. In Arkansas' capital city, Little Rock, is published one of the pioneer American newspapers.

Life is colorful and charming in the "Wonder State." Her people know well how to live as well as to work; visitors from many states have learned the warmth of their welcome. Here the sportsman finds wild duck and geese in numbers that darken the sky, and streams stocked from a fish hatchery that will one day be the largest in the world.

For those who love to picnic and explore there are mountains of quartz that reflect the colors of the rainbow, white cliffs of chalk that rival the English cliffs at Dover, the beautiful Ozarks, valleys and rolling prairies, and the scenic expanse and privileges of two of our national forests.

Arkansas! To her General Motors offers sincere tribute, and, on her behalf, extends to the nation a cordial invitation to visit her with the assurance of happy days.

Farmer Victim of Unusual Accident

Wiley R. Swilley of Union County Struck on Head by Falling Bell

EL DORADO.—Wiley R. Swilley, aged 64, well-known Union county farmer, died in a hospital here late Wednesday from injuries suffered last Thursday when an old-fashioned dinner bell fell from its stand and struck him on the head.

Mr. Swilley was repairing the bell at his home, three miles west of Smackover, when the platform collapsed and the heavy bell fell to the ground. He was brought to the hospital shortly after the accident and died at 5:40 Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Swilley was a member of a pioneer family. He is survived by his wife, six sons, Wharton Swilley of El Dorado, Austin of Lecompte, La., Ernest of Longview, Texas, Jack of Henderson, Texas, and Buster and W. R. of Smackover; and five daughters, Mrs. Vivian Hammon, Mrs. Aline Reuter and Mrs. Lois Jones of El Dorado, Mrs. Elva Slaughter of Dumas City and Mrs. Ruby Gulley of Killgore, Texas.

Mr. Swilley was a lifelong member of the Swilley's Chapel Methodist church. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, with the Rev. J. W. Johnston, Methodist minister, officiating. Burial will be in the Hicks cemetery near Smackover.

Quarterly License Plan Is Popular

Registration Close to 20,000 for Second Quarter Stickers

Windshield stickers showing quarterly payment of motor vehicle license fees will show an increase during the second quarter of almost 100 per cent over the first quarter, according to an estimate by state highway department officials.

Judging from the number of requests sent in by various county collectors for additional blank forms, the number of motor vehicles operating under the second quarter stickers will run close to 20,000 before the expiration of the quarter.

It has not been announced whether windshield stickers will be issued for the third quarter. Under the law, persons purchasing motor vehicle license plates after July 1 may pay one-half the annual fee and receive the plates. Even should the highway commission stickers, it is believed probable that a large proportion of motor vehicle operators will prefer to pay the semi-annual license fee on July 1 and obtain the regular license plate for use on the vehicle.

New Directors Named for Kansas City Southern

KANSAS CITY.—(AP)—Five new members are on the board of directors of the Kansas City Southern railroad, three of them as the result of a compromise with the Chicago Great Western railroad, holder of 104,500 shares of the line's stock.

In accordance with a previous agreement, the stock owned by the Great Western was not voted at an election of directors Tuesday, but three members, considered friendly to its interests were elected. They are John H. Wilcox, Kansas City; L. Brooks Leavitt, New York and John A. Nixon, Omaha. Charles E. Ames and Francis R. Randolph, both of New York, replaced Arthur Turnbull and John Sorenson of New York.

No Mews Are Bad News

"Rubie," refusing to be kittenish and acting catty instead, wouldn't count the mews when this young Spanish naval lieutenant tried to get her to purr for the sound film cameras. Instead, she stood up for her rights, as this picture shows—thus probably averting the cat-astrophe of being whipped with a cat-o'-nine-tails. The scene is in New York Harbor aboard a visiting Spanish training ship—which is NOT a cat boat.

$200 Colt Begins Year as Favorite of Circuit

CLEVELAND.—(AP)—A $200 colt nobody wanted two years ago looms as one of the leading contenders for pacing honors in the Grand Circuit this year.

He is Mac-I-Win, owned by C. F. Crowley, of Cleveland, vice-president of the Ohio short ship circuit. Crowley purchased him in the sales ring at the Lexington "trotts" two years ago when no one else was bidding, and placed him in the hands of the Urbana, Ohio, trainer, Dr. H. M. Parrshall.

Last year Mac-I-Win was unbeaten on the half-mile rings. Taken to the big time for a look at the top, he finished second to the season's leader in his first start over the mile, and finished the season the leading racing two-year-old pacer. He paced a mile in 2:09 flat, best recorded all season.

Squirrel Season To Open May 16

Squirrels May Be Killed From Middle of May to June 15

The season for shooting squirrel will open throughout the state on May 15 and will continue until June 15, it was announced by Guy Amaler, secretary of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission. Between June 15 and October 1 it will be unlawful to shoot squirrels in any part of Arkansas but the autumn open season will begin October 1 and continue until January 1. All special squirrel laws or laws applying to certain counties were held invalid by the supreme court, therefore the general law governs.

The closed season against the use of artificial bait will end May 15, after which date fishermen are at liberty to take any kind of game fish with live or artificial bait. A bag limit of 15 crappie or bass and six trout will apply but there is no limit to the other kinds of game fish which may be caught. All trout of less than 12 inches in length must be returned to the water. There is no size limit on any other kind of fish.

College Illustrator's Works Find Demand

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Football teams aren't the only things around Notre Dame that "draw well." In fact, student friends of Joe Lopker, senior in the fine arts school, nominate him for "all-America" collegiate illustrator. Creator of a wide variety of drawings for local campus publications, Lopker has had his works reprinted in and borrowed by many contemporary college magazines. Lopker, whose home is St. Joseph, Mich., uses pastel, water color, pen-and-ink, charcoal, oil and the lithograph pencil with equal facility and effectiveness.

Kidnaped Cow Returned for Groceries Ransom

MENARD, Texas.—(AP)—Kidnaping for ransom has made its appearance in livestock circles in Texas. A prize cow belonging to George Stangel, bank cashier, was taken from her pen recently. Stangel received a note telling him to place $10 worth of groceries in the cemetery, whereupon he would be told the whereabouts of the animal. At a given spot he found a note directing him to the cow, which he recovered.

Granddaughter of Fall to Wed

Martha Fall, 18, granddaughter of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, gave up a movie career to become a reporter and now is going to give up reporting to become the bride of Allen M. Hunter, shown with her above. Both work on El Paso, Texas papers. "I may continue to work after I'm married," she says. "It won't take me long to cook all I know about." She expects her grandfather, soon to be released from prison, to attend the wedding if his health permits.

Among the out of town relatives attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Amanda Josey, conducted from her home in this city on Wednesday afternoon were: F. A. Elener of Clinton, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. John Rouche and Mrs. Amelia Jones of St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Lowe, and George McDonald, of Malvern, were visitors at The Star office Thursday.

Some things seem to ask: with the same old story, why do we keep it? Why do we keep it? Fail not to speak of it? Or speak of it? Is there some comfort word unsaid? Or speak it. Is there a cry of woe unexpressed? Or speak it. Some worthy cause unhelped by thee? Or speak it. Are life's hours short? Then thou the words must lengthen; Where faith, hope, love, are weak, hast thou to strengthen. When tempting souls despairing falter, serve them. Where human lives have need there serve them—Selected.

Mrs. Charles Shiver left Wednesday for a visit with friends and relatives in Little Rock.

Mrs. F. R. Dign and Mrs. W. R. Dign who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gorin for the past two weeks left Thursday for their homes in Centerville and Kansas City Mo., respectively.

Mrs. A. M. Key was hostess on Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Wednesday Contract Bridge club at her home on South Main street. Two tables were equipped for bridge in the living room, where a quantity of lovely flowers were attractively arranged. The high score favor went to Mrs. C. F. Miles and Mrs. W. R. Key. An out of town guest was presented with a remembrance gift.

Six boys from the Hope High school will compete for honors on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in a silver medal contest, being sponsored by the local Women's Christian Temperance Union. In connection with the contest a most interesting program including music by the Glee Club directed by Mrs. John Wellborn, vocal solo by Miss Martha Jean Winburn and L. T. L. Yells by the children from the Paisley, Oakes and Brookwood schools. A $100 offering will be taken, but no admission fee will be charged.

Col. Charles Garrett of Little Rock was the Wednesday night guest of his mother, Mrs. Fannie Garrett.

In keeping with the Mother's Day season of sentiment, among the many tributes paid to mother was the old fashioned party given on Tuesday evening by the members of the Altman Class of the First Baptist Sunday school. For the occasion the ladies church parlors were beautifully decorated with a quantity of lovely pink roses, each member of the class had a mother as guest. An old-fashioned album, with old fashioned pictures, and an old fashioned school were among the entertainment features, and the costumes added much to the pleasure of the occasion. The prize given for the oldest mother present went to Mrs. Hudson, mother of Miss Grace Hudson, and the prize for the most attractive old fashioned costume went to Mrs. Bert Keith. Most delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Rev. W. E. Sherrill of Benton, Ark., preached the annual resurrection sermon here Sunday. The usual large crowd was in attendance. We appreciate the presence of so many good singers in the afternoon which made the singing unusually fine.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wade from near Blevins were among those attending the singing here Sunday afternoon. Mr. John Aslin and family of De-Queen are here visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper of Bruce, Miss., are here visiting relatives.

Mrs. Estelle Barr is at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carman, after an extended visit in Bruce, Miss.

Bro. J. A. Copeland of Delight, spent Sunday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McDougald. He was returning from Blevins where he preached Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

Trial Is Opened at Paris in Death Case

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—A jury was completed Tuesday to try Audie Clink on a charge of murder for the shooting of Silas Thompson, 40, farmer at Rosston, April 26. Testimony was taken Tuesday afternoon. State attorneys indicated they would ask for the death penalty.

Thompson was shot down as he stood on a Rosston street conversing with friends. Five charges from an automatic shotgun struck him. Clink surrendered to officers immediately after the shooting.

J. M. Futrell In Governor's Race

Would Compel Legislature to Stay Within Limits in Appropriations

LITTLE ROCK—Judge J. M. Futrell of Foragould, Chancellor of the Twelfth District, has yielded to the petition of thousands of Arkansas taxpayers to become the people's candidate for Governor.

Judge Futrell has had vast legislative experience, and is one of the state's most ardent students of economic conditions. He served in three sessions of the General Assembly as a member of the House, one term in the Senate, was acting Governor for Arkansas for five months in 1912, a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1912, has been Circuit Judge, and is now Chancellor of his district. Judge Futrell has never held an official position to which he could not have been re-elected without opposition, so firm was the faith of his constituents in his integrity and good judgment. Thrifty and frugal in his habits, with business sagacity that is much respected by those with whom he has had business dealings, qualifies Judge Futrell for the office to which he aspires, and promises some relief for the taxpayers.

In the statement which accompanied his announcement, Judge Futrell declared that he was hesitant about becoming a candidate because of the distressed circumstances of the people and the alarming condition of state affairs, but being convinced that it was a public duty on his part, he responded to the demand.

"If I were able to visualize and formulate constructive plans," says

Judge Futrell in his statement, "which point the way to political order out of political chaos, I would not be justified in entering the campaign. For some time, as a public official and as a citizen I have watched with grave concern the direction in which our state government has been drifting. The State's problem is three fold: Financial security, the preservation of our highway investment, and in carrying on the education of our youth. It is the responsibility of the next governor to face these major problems, and it is the duty of every candidate to offer for consideration by the people, his recommendations for their solution. No man can justify his position in asking for the gubernatorial nomination unless he has sound, constructive remedies to offer for the payment of the colossal public debt, edner, to carry on the necessary functions of government, and to restore public confidence.

"All political corruption and most political abuse center around the power to raise and spend money. The legislature has unlimited power in that direction. Any government which is extravagant with public funds is always more or less corrupt, regardless of its particular motive. Our present predicament is directly traceable to the legislature unwisely exercising this power. Electing capable executives and legislatures is a continual fight, or the good gained in one legislature is lost in the next. That part of the public not directly interested in politics aside from general welfare, is not active. The professional politician, with his allies, is everlastingly on the job. The first step toward lessening benefit is to substantially limit the power of the legislature to ruin and destroy. To do this the qualified electors must adopt a constitutional amendment which would fix the maximum cost of our state government, exclusive of public highways and prohibit the legislature from appropriating a sum in excess of the amount fixed. Let the amendment further provide that all excess monies be applied to the payment of valid state debts. This amendment should also provide that legislative appropriations first care for expenses of state government as constitutionally fixed, then for offices and expenses created by statute, until the limit is reached. The legislature would thus be compelled to cut the garment to fit the cloth. It would eliminate useless institutions and departments from the payroll and force economy upon the legislature.

"If a survey is not made to determine what agencies of government are necessary, the cost of the state government as reflected by appropriations for 1911 to 1915 could be safely adopted as the maximum sum. The population of Arkansas has increased little since 1915, and governmental cost should mount only with increased population."

Judge Futrell was born in Paragould 59 years ago, and has resided in Greene county all his life.

STATE POLITICAL

Justice Turner Butler, the only supreme court justice up for reelection, is opposed by John Harris, El Dorado.

Earl Page, commissioner of mines, has three opponents—Luther Ellison, secretary of the Camden and South Arkansas chambers of commerce; W. E. Atkins, Magnolia; and James E. Matthews, Little Rock.

Only one railroad commissioner is to be filled this year, that held by Ed Harper of Camden, veteran member. He has three opponents, W. A. (Lon) Craven, Hampton; W. S. Evans, Benton; and Walter Weaver, Malvern.

State Auditor J. Oscar Humphrey, a candidate for a third term, is opposed by Charles Parker of Camden, former state printing clerk in the auditor's office, and Roy H. Hand of Yellville.

Kenneth Coffelt, the "baby member" of the house of representatives in the 1931 legislature, is running for prosecuting attorney of the seventeenth circuit. He represented Faulkner county in the legislature but has moved to Brinkley where he is practicing law.

S. B. (Pete) McCall of El Dorado, former state senator, who as president pro tem of the senate during Governor Tom Terral's administration served as governor for a few days and issued several pardons which brought Terral rushing back into the state to have them revoked, is a candidate for the senate again.

Two veteran legislators—Senator R. J. Wilson and Rep. Wilson Cardwell of Washington county, are opposing each other for the senate.

Negro Pupils at Saenger Thursday

Shover Street Students Presenting Minstrel as Stage Show

The Shover Street pupils completed all rehearsals Thursday and were ready for the presentation Thursday night of one of the most novel stage attractions that has appeared at the Saenger theatre in some time, an all-negro minstrel.

The cast consists of over 25 school children who dance and sing to perfection. As everyone knows, dancing and singing are natural talents of the negro, and the minstrel to be presented Thursday night gives them an opportunity to display this talent to their own advantage and the public's entertainment. All of the songs and jokes are new, and they will not fail to please and bring laughs and fun to the audience. The feature picture in connection with this stage show is "Wayward," starring Nancy Carroll, Richard Arlen and Pauline Fredrick.

Short Haul Airline Carries Most Traffic

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The record for number of air passengers carried in 1931 has been awarded by the department of commerce to Ludington airlines, which operates between Washington and New York.

In a consolidated statement of scheduled air transport operations for the year, the department showed that 58,569 passengers were carried by the line.

The company flew a total of 9,735,961 passenger miles. The record holder in this category was Transcontinental and Western Air, which accounted for 10,358,027 passenger miles in its New York-Los Angeles service.

DO YOU INHALE?

Here goes the last "sacred cow" in cigarette advertising!

INHALING has long been an "untouchable" ... a subject taboo in the tobacco trade ... a "sacred cow"! Why? ... Because in every tobacco leaf—even the finest, the mildest—nature hides certain impurities which, when not removed, are unkind to delicate membranes!

And since, knowingly or unknowingly, we all inhale some part of the smoke from our cigarette—Lucky Strike developed that great scientific process which removes certain impurities. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

"Pay the Bonus"

My Plan:

Deposit the Adjusted Service Certificate with the Treasury and issue greenbacks to circulate as currency redeemable on their face in 1945 simultaneously with the Certificates. Take 40 per cent of the idle gold together with the Adjusted Service Certificates, under a proper Act, and you have your greenbacks supported by collateral to the full extent of 100 cents on the dollar.

You are taxed now for the sinking fund with which the Certificates are to be retired in 1945, therefore there will be no additional burden and the debt will automatically retire itself in 1945 from the sinking fund. The Soldiers' Bonus was due October 1, 1931 and should be paid—read my opening speech and you will get the facts.

the MAN HUNTERS

BY MABEL McELLIOTT

©1932 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

WISDOM HERE TODAY
SUSAN CAREY, 20 and beautiful, had become engaged to Ernest Heath, 22, a former convict who had been in the penitentiary for three years. Her father, Mr. DUNBAR, who is a well-to-do man, was in a hurry to get his daughter married. He had a high opinion of her son-in-law, and he was sure that she would be a good wife. He was sure that she would be a good wife. He was sure that she would be a good wife.

HOW NO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXVIII

THE curtain had risen on the first act when Susan and Ernest Heath drifted down the aisle of the theater. More than one head turned to look at the tall girl in the regally simple wrap of brown fur. There were one or two whispers as Heath was recognized. He had forgotten his original caution and desire to avoid publicity in his eagerness to take Susan about. Al- though impatient for the marriage to take place he had agreed to wait for her aunt's return.

Now, conscious of the craned necks and the whispers, he felt only a glow of pride. The girl was so beautiful! She had a look of race about her.

Susan leaned forward absorbed in the play, and the man watched her with interest. It was not until the curtain dropped again and the lights came on that Susan drew a deep breath and returned to reality. "You like it?"

"Oh, so much!" The color came up to her cheeks and her eyes were stary. "Don't you?"

"Well, it's all right, only all these British comedies sound alike."

"They may to you but I've never seen one before and I think it's wonderful," she confided with a happy little laugh.

Susan loosened her wrap and leaned back, looking about her for the first time. As by a magnet her gaze was drawn to a little group in the box just to the left. Irresistibly her eyes clung to the three people balancing on the little gilt chairs. Surely she knew that girl in black, with her bright hair combed demurely back from a brow of camellia whiteness. Susan's heart plunged as she realized the identity of the fair-haired young man whose head was turned away from her. Try as she might, she could not take her eyes away.

As though impelled by Susan's gaze the man turned and stared at her. For the fraction of an instant something quivered between them. Then the girl inclined her head with dignity and looked swiftly away. Her pulses were racing now. This was just as she had dreamed. "Someone you know?" Heath asked curiously, noting the quality of her brow.

Susan never knew how she answered him. She was fighting desperately for control. All her hard won defenses seemed shattered by this encounter.

MEANTIME, in the box another little drama was being enacted. The bright haired girl in black had followed the direction of Bob Dunbar's glance and had seen him flush. She laughed coolly.

"Oh—ho, your little friend turns up again!" she said. "Who's that with her?" Denise leaned forward, frankly staring. At the glimpse of Heath's aristocratic profile she whistled softly. "As I live and breathe," she muttered, "she's bagged Old Propriety herself!" She saw Bob's spine stiffen and return with zest to the attack. "Look what she's carrying," she said, enjoying herself thoroughly now. "Sablot! Mother said when she was in Madame Elsa's the other day the talk was that old Heath had a girl around town now."

Fiercely Bob interrupted her. "Don't be a fool," he said. "You know Susan Carey isn't that kind."

Denise shrugged. "You know more about her than I do, Smarty." She turned her attention to the other member of the party, a youth who looked like a professional tango dancer.

During the second interval Susan determinedly kept her eyes away from the box, but just as the lights went off, quite against her will, her eyes flashed in that direction. The box was empty. They had gone. The world suddenly went gray. What she had expected she scarcely knew. Perhaps she had hoped against hope that as the well-dressed throngs milled out into the foyer her shoulder might brush against Bob's. He would look up and smile. Perhaps he would shake hands. She would give everything she owned at this instant to slip her tingling palm into the grip of his strong fingers. It would be something to remember, something to treasure. But now he had gone and she would not see him.

WHAT had happened was this. Denise and the Spanish youth had seen the play before and Bob, who was raging in his heart at the conversation touching Susan, was quite ready to concur in their proposal to go on some place and dance. He wanted overwhelmingly to hurt someone. Since he could not hurt Susan he turned the battery of his sarcastic fury upon his two companions.

Denise ordered the taxi driver to stop.

"Look here, if you don't like us you know what you can do," she said crudely. "Bobby's in a beast of a temper," she explained to the other man. "I stepped on his pet corn and he doesn't like it. Rico and I want to go places and have fun. If you're going to crab the party you'd better get out."

Bob bowed low to her. "That's all right with me," he said elaborately. "That's fine." The door slammed after him.

"If I didn't know he hadn't had a drop I'd say he was drunk," Denise muttered, peering after Dunbar as he sauntered down the street. She was not far from right. The young man was drunk with fury and despair. Passers-by turned to stare at the tall, hatless youth in evening clothes. One or two timid women scuttled anxiously in the direction of a policeman's booth after he passed. His eyes were wild and he was talking to himself.

Without consciously directing his course he turned his steps toward the theater he had just left. The night was sharply cold but he was not aware of it. As he swung along he discovered that he was carrying an object in the curve of his arm. He examined it and found it was his opera hat. He laughed suddenly and called the thing into the middle of the street where it lay on the car tracks.

As he neared the building his steps quickened. The pavement was deserted. Perhaps the play was over and Susan had gone. Ah, that was it! He knew now why he had come back. It was for a glimpse of her, of the girl he had ensnared. "Enshrin'd! That's good!" he barked aloud, frightening an old cleaning woman who was trotting along homeward. He had thought Susan everything that was good and pure. In an age when young men scorned ideals he had built one about this girl.

Manlike, he felt now that he hated her for having destroyed his dream. Nevertheless he had to see her. That glimpse of her pearl-pale face through crowded aisles had been tantalizing. He did not mean to speak to her. He only wanted to stand close enough to see the downward flicker of those long lashes, and perhaps to hear the sound of her voice. It was odd how well he remembered everything about this girl. She had a little trick of catching her lower lip in her teeth. He wanted to see her do that. He wanted to look into her eyes again and determine whether they were gray or black. It tormented him not to know.

THE play was over at last. An attendant came out and looked the doors open and people drifted out in twos and threes.

Where was she? Had she, too, tired of the comedy and left before it was over? Dunbar's anger turned to apprehension now. He bowed absently to two or three down-agers waiting for their car. Where was she? He had searched for her for weeks and here she had been all the time, playing around with this older man—this man in whose employ she had been. His mouth twisted angrily.

At last he caught a glimpse of her through the crowd. In that sumptuous wrap of petal soft fur Susan looked the very young princess.

He might plunge through the crowd to seize her and carry her away as a bandit prince. He might do that—but he wouldn't. If she preferred this sort of thing she could have it. Remembering that night in the lane and her appeal for Heath's protection, Dunbar's mind wandered along in dark mazes. It was all so plain to him now. He had been wrong about her from the start.

The girl looked cool and composed as he watched her. Heath handed her into the car with a decidedly proprietary air.

"Damn him!" muttered the boy in the shadows. "The car began to slide away and Dunbar woke to life. The pain throbbed in his breast. He was losing her again—he might never see her."

He began to run. "Susan, Susan," he called. "The policeman directing traffic took the young man by the arm. Bob began to laugh mirthlessly. "It's all right," he told the officer. "It's all right." He shook off the detaining hand. "Too much bad gin," the policeman said to himself, watching the "young swell" stride into the night. (To Be Continued)

$500 Casket for Pet Dog

Heart-broken over the death of his favorite pet dog Baby Ginter, Frank Callahan, wealthy Tiffin, Ohio, sportsman and owner of a string of race horses, gave the deceased animal a royal funeral costing $500. Callahan, who was in Milwaukee at the time of his pet's death, rushed home, bought a $500 casket for her and arranged for the costly rites. He will create a $1000 mausoleum in memory of his dog. Callahan is shown above beside the casket while Baby Ginter lies in state. Tiffin residents gaped at the display.

Sudan Grass Fine For Stock Grazing

Splendid Results Obtained by Use of Crop to Aid Pastures

A good permanent pasture is the source of the cheapest feed which can be produced on the average farm in Arkansas. However, in dry weather during the summer most permanent pastures do not supply such grazing, states D. J. Bursleson, Extension agronomist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture. During such periods there is need for some temporary grazing to tide over the drought.

Sudan grass is well adapted for this purpose. This grass stands dry, hot weather as well as any crop we have and will produce quick grazing or an early hay crop for an emergency. On land that is fairly fertile, it is advisable to plant Sudan grass in rows and cultivate two or three times. About 8 pounds of seed are required to plant an acre in rows wide enough to cultivate. On fertile land about 25 pounds of seed may be sown broadcast. If broadcast seeding is intended for hay it is a good plan to mix cowpeas with it, thus improving the quality of hay.

Sudan grass should be planted in May for best yields, but the crop is adapted to late planting. As an emergency feed crop Sudan may be planted as late as the last of June.

Rocky Mound

Eld. Paul Reeves of Minden, La., filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

Sanford Hairston and wife of White Chapel spent the week end with relatives here.

The Eighth grade graduating exercises were held at the school building Friday night, County Judge Higgins of Hope addressed the class. E. G. Steed presented the diplomas, after that a real interesting play was given by the class, which was enjoyed by a large crowd.

J. W. Silvey and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Silvey of Willisville spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Silvey.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Steed made a business trip to Prescott Saturday. The day game between Serepta and Rocky Mound was rained out Saturday afternoon. Rocky Mound will play Cecil, here next Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. E. M. Hart and baby spent the week end with relatives at Laneburg. The singing class from this place will sing at Shover Springs Saturday night, May 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Barto Bearden, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Mitchell attended the singing at Spring Hill Sunday afternoon.

Quite a number from here will attend the all day singing at Bluff Springs next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Nichols school house spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ellis visited at the bedside of Mrs. Bill Fairchild who is a patient at the Cora Donnel hospital at Prescott, Saturday.

If the proposed tax on horse race bets is passed, it'll be cheaper for the boys to play the stock market again.

The most original idea of the week isn't the one to pay bridge winners with rubber checks.

In the United States, at least, the queens were the only ones crowned on May Day.

Uncle Sam to aid these Mountain Folk, Living Primitively in Isolated Community

Here are some pictures that show one-half of the world how the other half lives. But perhaps you wouldn't call it "living" if your home was the tumble-down, log shack, shown upper left, that is the residence of Sam Corbin and his family in "Corbin's Hollow," in the Blue Ridge Mountains. In this section, less than a dozen miles from President Hoover's camp at Rapidan, Va., 49 persons live in the primitive circumstances pictured, here—conditions which government officials now intend to remedy. Illiterate, ill-fed and speaking the almost non-understandable dialect of the mountaineers, Bessie, John and Daniel Corbin were shy of the cameraman's big black box, and are shown upper right as they peered timidly around a corner of their cabin. Six families huddle in rags in their squalid huts and 2-year-old Daniel Corbin—as seen lower right when he posed with two of his sisters—had been tied with a rope to keep him from splaying. Lower left you see Mrs. Sam Corbin preparing, on a crude, ancient stove, her family's evening meal. The plight of the mountaineers was revealed when Secretary of the Interior Wilbur visited their community during a survey of a new national park.

Firestone EXTRA VALUES COUNT

LOW PRICES on tires is one thing—extra quality at low prices is quite another.

When you can get the Extra Values of Firestone's two patented construction features—Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies Under the Tread—at no premium in price, you are getting the most in Safety and Mileage your money can buy.

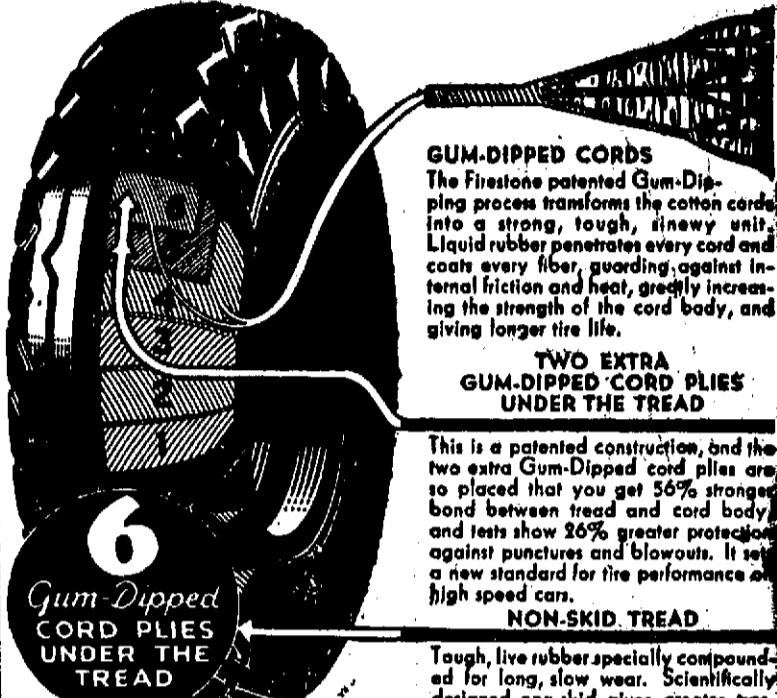

Prices for these extra quality tires are unbelievably low today; in fact, the lowest ever known.

You owe it to the safety of your family and yourself to equip your car with Firestone—the Strongest and Safest Tires you can buy at the price you want to pay.

Drive in today. We will show you sections cut from Firestone Tires—also special brand mail order tires and others—take them in your own hands and check the construction for yourself. You and you alone be the Judge. Then you will understand why Firestone Tires are the outstanding preference of car owners.

In these days of thrifty buying—FIRESTONE EXTRA VALUES COUNT!

The Tire That Taught THRIFT to Millions

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance at high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD

Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

CITY

Apply the revenues of the municipal power plant to develop the material and social resources of Hope.
 Before city government in 1932, and improved sanitary conditions in alleys and business back-yards.
 Support the Chamber of Commerce.

COUNTY

County highway program providing for the construction of a road about 100 miles each year, to gradually reduce the rural mileage.
 Political and economic support for every scientific agricultural experiment which offers practical benefits to Hempstead county's greatest resource—its soil.
 Encourage farmer organizations, believing that co-operative effort is the key to the county as it is in town.

STATE

Encourage progress on the state highway program.
 Reform tax reform, and a more efficient government through the budget system of expenditures.

A Good Example

ONE of the most interesting governmental and economic experiments that has come out of the depression is reported from Canada, where the local governments of six small towns that have gone bankrupt are being taken over by the province of Ontario, under a new law.

In effect, these six local governments are going into the hands of receivers appointed by the province. A board of control composed of two representatives of the municipality, two representatives of the banks, two representatives of the bondholders and creditors and one representative of the province, will attempt to straighten out the tangled financial affairs of each municipality.

Each board will have full power to hire and fire municipal employees, treat with bondholders and creditors and sign all checks. The town councilmen must obey the orders of the board or face heavy fines; if councilmen dare spend money without the approval of the board they will be personally liable to suits for the recovery of such moneys.

By dint of close supervision and efficiency in administration, the boards are expected to pull the cities out of their financial plight.

Such a plan seems well worth while. Insolvent business firms go into the hands of receivers for the protection of their stockholders and there seems to be no good reason why insolvent cities should not go into the hands of receivers for the protection of their taxpayers instead of letting the same game of politicians continue to fritter away the public's money and increase the city's debt.

Consider, for example, what a board of receivers appointed by the state of Illinois might have been able to accomplish in Chicago.

Which Reminds Us—

ABOUT twenty-five years ago circumstances placed J. M. Futrell temporarily in the governor's office. Our now Senator Joe T. Robinson had been elected governor, but there was a vacancy in the United States senate, and Governor Robinson resigned the governorship and took the higher place. Futrell was president of the senate and automatically became governor until he could call an election. He was not a candidate in the election.

But while holding the office of governor there had been a man tried in Hot Springs for the murder of his wife, was convicted and sentenced to hang. An appeal was taken to Governor Futrell, after the courts had been resorted to without success. It was represented to Governor Futrell that the man was insane.

Now Governor Futrell knew that the Arkansas law, nor any other law, contemplated the execution of an insane man, but he didn't do anything at the time the experts and scientists presented their cause.

While later this writer learned that Governor Futrell had come quietly and unannounced into Hot Springs, had gone to the sheriff's office, had asked for an interview with the convicted man. Before the convicted man or any other man had opportunity to be on guard, the governor was in the county jail talking to the convicted man.

After some conversation, and when the convicted man did not know who he was talking to the governor retired. Later he announced he would not interfere with the sentence of the courts. "The man doesn't appear to be insane" was about all Governor Futrell had to say.

He is that sort of man, and now that he has acceded to the call of friends to run for governor we recall the solidly built little freckled man from eastern Arkansas who was governor but a short time, but who assumed every obligation and discharged it when he was chief executive. We liked the way he made his own personal investigation in a case where a man's life was at stake.

We have no idea what the political fortunes of Arkansas will be, or misfortunes, when the August election is over, but we know that honor and integrity and ability lie along any path that J. M. Futrell follows.—Hot Springs Sentinel-Record.

Advice to Business Men

BUSINESS men, worrying about the depression and reduced sales, might pause for a moment and consider the remarks of Samuel T. Gilbert of Detroit, one of the nation's largest cigar manufacturers.

Says Mr. Gilbert:

"One of the great mistakes people are making nowadays is failure to advertise just because times are bad. You've got to keep advertising if you want to sell. There's only one thing selling in American today. That's liquor—and it's being advertised from hand to mouth by everybody. Liquor is the biggest business in America."

Yes, business men with goods to sell might stop worrying over reduced sales for a moment and consider what Mr. Gilbert has to say. Then, if they acted on his advice, they wouldn't have so much to worry about.

Cotton in Fashion For This Season

Variety of Weaves and Fabrics Introduced for Modish Wear

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Cotton in all its variety will be in fashion this season. For morning wear there are trim little frocks, most of them sleeveless, one piece affairs, of striped or figured cotton, or of smart rough weaves in plain colors.

For street and semi-dressed-up occasions in the country, there are suits of white fancy weaves and frocks of lace or sheer mesh weaves.

Afternoon dresses are made of pique, a fabric which will be seen at many evening functions also. Organ-die, embroidered with colored flowers and other smart patterns, lace and net are dainty and quite smart.

Cotton hats are also in vogue, the daytime and sports chapeaux made of pique, gingham and other weaves, the dress hats made of starched organ-die, cotton lace, or mesh.

Shoes, bags, gloves, occasional jackets, even lingerie will be featured in cotton during the season.

Linen is a close favorite and there are a number of other washable fabrics which will be selected by smart women for a summer wardrobe that will boast of economy and cool chic.

Louisiana Power Profits Revealed

Appreciation of Capital Values, High Returns, Outlined at Hearing

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rates of return on the fixed capital of the Louisiana Power and Light Company both before and after the deduction of a net appreciation of capital values of $8,645,245.04 were described Tuesday at a Federal Trade Commission hearing.

Testifying at the conclusion of hearings on the Louisiana company, Charles R. Taylor, commission examiner, said the fixed capital of the Louisiana Power and Light Company at its organization August 1, 1927, was valued at $19,299,574.82.

The fixed capital on the books of the predecessor companies which the Louisiana was organized to consolidate was $9,527,354.80, he said. There was deducted from the gross appreciation of fixed capital values of approximately $9,672,000, the sum of $1,028,974.88, representing "intangible values" which were on the books of the old companies and which were not included on the books of the Louisiana, Taylor said.

Responding to questions by Robert E. Healy, the commission's chief lawyer, he estimated the rates of return on fixed capital as recorded on the books of the company and with depreciation, rents and all taxes deducted, at 7.95 per cent for 1930, 7.50 per cent for 1929, and 6.25 per cent for 1928. With the fixed capital appreciation deducted, the percentages of return for these three years on fixed capital were 11.72, 11.65 and 10.53 respectively, Taylor said.

Stage Calling Mrs. Lamont After Hit

With meager experience and but five days' rehearsal, Mrs. Frances Kent Lamont, socially prominent wife of Robert P. Lamont, Jr., and daughter-in-law of the U. S. secretary of commerce, swaggared onto a Denver stage in the role of Sadie Thompson in "Rain" and walked away with the show. Her success won her an offer of a regular place in the stock company's cast. Her husband is now in Russia discussing improvement of the cattle industry with Soviet officials. Mrs. Lamont is pictured here in dress of role.

My speech was rather lengthy, I am afraid," said the young statesman, "but I assure you that it contains numerous gems of thought."

"Perhaps," replied Senator Sorghum. "But I have never allowed myself to take the slightest interest in these stories of buried treasure."

One writer says the way to end the depression is to increase the number of consumers, while another says the remedy is to decrease the number of producers. Why not goall the way and have lots of consumers and no producers.

Tank Car Service Station Formally Opens, Third and Elm

Business Women to Have Hand in Station Opening

Formal Program to Inaugurate Service at the New Station Friday, With Club Women Participating in Opening Sales

In announcing the opening of the new Tank Car Service Station of the Wilkerson Oil Company, Mr. Wilkerson, president of the company has enlisted the aid of the Business & Professional Women's Club of this city.

The plan, according to Mr. Wilkerson, is to have members of the club distribute cards to their friends asking them to buy merchandise from the station Friday and Saturday. The club to participate in the cash receipts of the gasoline sold. The Business and Professional Women's Club will receive so much per gallon on the three grade of gasoline, namely, Thrift, Certified, and Certified Plus. The club will also have a share in the oil changes sold at the regular retail price.

According to Mrs. Frank Russell, president of the club, she expects a large number of Hope motorists to help the club by getting cards from the members.

During the formal opening Friday and Saturday the public is extended a cordial invitation to visit this new and modern service station, complete in every detail. Enlisting the newest type of equipment it offers to the motorist of Hope a most economical method of buying quality merchandise.

Certified Gas and Oil Products Are Declared Superior

Wilkerson Products Made to Standard at Refining Plant

INDEPENDENT FIRM

Pennsylvania, Lubricating Oil Delivered in Tank Car Lots

"All products sold by the Wilkerson Oil Co. are bought strictly on specifications. Certified gasoline and Certified motor oils must be good and made to specified standards or they are refused at our plant," Mr. Wilkerson states.

The thrifty motorist, welcomes this assurance of good gasoline and motor oil bought at a great saving, says F. E. Wilkerson, head of the company that bears his name. Not only does every gallon bear the trade name "Certified" but one of the oldest names in the oil business in Louisiana and Arkansas is behind every sale, he declared.

"Our company certifies that every gallon of gasoline sold through our branded pumps meets or exceeds specifications set by the United States bureau of standards for U. S. motor gasoline. These rigid and inflexible standards must meet these specifications.

"By special arrangement with one of the largest and oldest Pennsylvania refineries the Wilkerson Oil Co. buys its premium grade motor oil in tank car lots. The oil is strictly 100 percent pure Pennsylvania motor oil and is sold under the trade name of Certified Penn. Certified Penn is the best motor oil money can buy—but not in specifications it ranks with the best," declares Mr. Wilkerson. The oil sells for the regular price instead of the usual premium.

The Wilkerson Oil Co. is "independent," with no connections with major oil companies. All oils and gasolines are bought in tank car quantities and according to specifications. The slogan of the company is "From Tank Car to Your Car," this eliminates three expensive handlings, bulk plant, tank trucks, and credits.

Seeks License for 27-Year-Old Automobile

CHICAGO—(P)—These modern automobiles are fine but they built some real cars back in 1905 too.

Peter Esslinger bought one of the 1905 variety for $10 and Tuesday applied for a state license. It'll still do 35 to 40 miles an hour.

When the manufacturers learned that I had bought the machine they offered me a brand new auto for it," Esslinger said. "But I turned down the proposition. I intend to run this car until it falls apart—or I do."

A museum offered him $20 for it, but he declined that offer too.

Sales Manager

Hope Men Will Be Station Managers

Joe Coleman, Manager, With Fonsie Moses, Assisting

Two local men will be salesmen at the new Wilkerson Oil company's Certified Service station located at Third and Elm Streets.

Joe Coleman will be manager, and will be assisted by Fonsie Moses. Both have had considerable experience in oil marketing.

"We feel that in the selection of Mr. Coleman and Mr. Moses as salesmen for our company in Hope that we have picked two men who will serve the motoring public," Mr. Wilkerson stated. "Besides the fact that ours is quality merchandise... we feature real service and we pride ourselves upon the speed with which that service is rendered," he further stated.

When asked, Mr. Coleman, stated that he wanted every motorist in Hope and the surrounding trade territory to give Certified products a chance to prove themselves... "not only will the merchandise sell itself but every motorist will save himself actual dollars and cents by using Certified products," he said.

Anti-Knock Gas to Be Certified Fuel

Eliminates Carbon and Compression Knock, Says Wilkerson

The new Wilkerson Oil Company will offer as its premium fuel a natural anti-knock gasoline, branded "Certified Plus," according to an announcement Thursday at the station headquarters at Third and Elm street, site of their new station.

"Certified Plus" will be pure, sweet gasoline refined from selected crudes. It will contain no chemical compounds not naturally found in gasoline. Its purposes of identification it will be colored red and sold from white pumps. The pump globes will also bear the name of the product.

This premium fuel will be specially refined to give maximum performance in high compression motors. It will eliminate carbon and compression knock and act against the formation of carbon. Its use will result in smoother and better performance.

Certified plus has an octane number of 71 or better, which is unusually high, according to Mr. Wilkerson. "Octane number" is the new standard for measurement of the anti-knock value of gasoline, recently adopted by the refining profession. Popular premium fuels on the market, selling from three to four cents over the regular brands, range from 65 up in octane number.

The Wilkerson Oil Co. plans to sell Certified Plus at a slight premium over the regular "certified" gasoline.

Three Retired By Missouri Pacific

W. J. Kiernan, Mark Sieple and Andrew Muldrow Long in Service

LITTLE ROCK—Three veteran employees of the Missouri Pacific Lines have been retired on pensions, local railway officials announced Tuesday. The three men have been connected with the railroad company for many years in North Little Rock, where they live.

The retired veterans are: William J. Kiernan, aged 64, 121 West Fourth street; Mark Sieple, 1700 Willow street; and Andrew Muldrow, aged 70, 509 West Twenty-sixth street.

Mr. Kiernan was a foreman on the Arkansas Division at the time of his retirement. He entered the service of the company in 1903, serving in several capacities for the past 29 years.

Mr. Sieple, who was a crossing watchman at the time of his retirement, served the company for 33 years. Mr. Muldrow entered the service of the Missouri Pacific in 1886 and at the time of his retirement was a store helper.

They're still talking about what the Democratic party owes John J. Raskob. And there are those who say that regardless of what the amount is, it is small compared to what the Republicans owe him.

Women Drivers to Like New Station

Wide Sweeping Entrances Provided From Two Streets

The new Certified Service Station is especially designed to appeal to women drivers who constitute the majority of Hope's gasoline-buying public, according to Mr. Wilkerson.

Years of experience have proven that women motorists like wide sweeping entrances and driveways, many preferring to patronize stations blocks out of their way to avoid an awkward drive-in. Mr. Wilkerson points out that the new Certified station has large, sweeping drives and that the women motorists will have no trouble in getting into or getting out of the new station.

Women drivers may enter from any angle on Elm street or Third street without dodging station architecture which might scratch or mar the finish of their cars. The new feature of construction has proven immensely popular in the North and East, according to oil marketing authorities.

The rest room, always a feature in demand by the fairer sex, is most modern in appointments, boasting a large plate glass mirror, hat and coat hangers, and up-to-date plumbing fixtures. More important than any furnishings, the room may have, though, is the rigid code of cleanliness which the oil company promises to enforce. The battery of six fast electrically operated pumps, with large dials clearly visible from the customer's seat, probably will also meet with the approval of the feminine contingent.

This means the driver can check the gasoline delivery into her tank without leaving the seat. The last word in gasoline dispensers, deliver 16 gallons per minute, making speedy service possible.

Mr. Wilkerson also promises that the more fastidious sex will be pleased with the cleanliness of the uniformed salesmen, who will make a point of seeing that every woman motorist is served so satisfactorily that she will bring new customers to the Certified station.

"MIDDLE-MAN" OUT

Direct Sales Policy Inaugurated by Wilkerson Oil Company

The new orange-and-black open air station of the Wilkerson Oil company boasts the largest paved drive-in space in Hope, with a concrete area of over a seventh of an acre.

The management believes the wide drives free of unnecessary obstruction will prove inviting to local motorists. The ample space, together with the battery of six electrically operated meter pumps, will enable the station to serve quickly every car that drives in, even at peak hours. The pumps are of the latest construction, delivering 16 gallons per minute. A 14-inch dial makes the amount delivered inside the car plainly visible from the driver's seat.

Each pump is equipped with a visible attachment, so the customer can actually see the gasoline enter the delivery hose. Automatic calculators on each unit will figure the amount of each purchase, up to 15 gallons, making it unnecessary for the customer to wait. The salesman will carry enough change to make change at the point of sale in most cases.

Nothing has been spared, it seems, to make service at the certified station as fast and convenient as modern marketing makes possible.

Motor Oil Comes in Handy Package

6-Quart Tin Featured by Wilkerson for Quick Crankcase Change

With the opening of the new Certified Service station, Elm at Third street, the Wilkerson Oil company announces a new Certified Motor Oil designed for good lubrication at a very low cost.

According to Mr. Wilkerson, head of the company, which bears his name, "We've gone into the oil business, to give the motorist a chance to save himself real money on good and proper lubrication. Certified Motor Oil is being marketed, at all of our stations in handy easy-pour cans. The average motorist can realize a tremendous saving by using this oil and draining his own crankcase."

The oil is being packed in a handy 6-quart size as well as a 5-gallon size. Arrangements have been made by one of the south's largest refiners to supply this oil. Every can is sealed and bears a written guarantee to the effect that "Certified Motor Oil is guaranteed. It will give your motor good lubrication at a very low cost."

This guarantee is signed by F. E. Wilkerson.

Wilkerson Oil Co. Launch New Plan of Oil Marketing

Orange and Black Station in Hope, Will Feature Loading of Gasoline Direct From Tank Car to New Local Retail Filling Station

When the orange and black service station of the Wilkerson Oil Company formally opens for business, Friday morning at Elm and Third streets, an entirely new system of oil marketing will be presented to Hope's motoring public.

New Greasing Gun Reaches Shackles

6,000 Pounds Pressure Developed by New Service Machine

In keeping with the saving made at the Wilkerson Oil Co.'s Certified service station, washing and greasing will be priced lower than ordinary. Mr. Wilkerson announced Thursday.

Realizing that modern equipment is very necessary to give quick, yet good wash and grease jobs the newest type of greasing guns, and washing machines has been installed. A special made nozzle attachment has been obtained to turn out a neat, clean wash job. Not only will all grease spots and caked mud underneath the car be cleaned, but vacuum cleaning will also complete the service.

"Frozen" grease joints and shackles are the toughest parts to grease about a car, but to offset these tough spots a grease gun has been bought capable of 6,000 pounds pressure, assuring the motorist that his car will be greased and greased right. We have spared no expense in getting good washing and greasing equipment," he claims. The wash and grease rack will be enclosed.

I. T. Bell Opens Bowling Alley at His Home

I. T. Bell, of 603 South Main street announces the opening of an open air bowling alley at his home.

This amusement is located in his yard. There is plenty of shade in the daytime and electric lights have been provided for night visitors.

Because he believes "the average American is spending his money more wisely today than at any time since the war," F. E. Wilkerson, former sales manager of one of the South's largest oil companies, has founded his own business to market gasoline and motor oil according to his own theory, which is that the automobile being of such a size, it is a waste of money to have a station next door to him.

According to Mr. Wilkerson, the principles on which this new station and oil company of his company are run are entirely new to the oil business. The new company will buy its products in tank car lots and market direct to the consumer. The trucks will be unloaded from tank cars direct to the tanks at the station, eliminating bulk plants, gasoline trucks, and other unnecessary overhead expense.

The savings thus effected will be passed on to the company's customers, he said.

The Wilkerson Oil Co. will be "independent," with no connections with major oil companies. The station has storage for more than four tank-car loads of gasoline and oil and will buy to meet its own specifications, which are said to meet or exceed those for United States motor gasoline as set by the United States bureau of standards.

Products of the company will be sold under the trade name "Certified."

Associated with the Wilkerson Oil Company will be Joe Coleman, formerly with another oil company in Hope, and Fonsie Moses who has had considerable experience in oil marketing.

Every Motorist Should Read This

Sound economics teach that the elimination of unnecessary handling means a saving. It is a proven fact that gasoline and motor oil can be marketed at considerably less expense if a proper mechanical set-up is worked out. With the basic idea of an economical set-up, and proper merchandising, the Wilkerson Oil Company was organized.

For the last five years major oil companies have striven by might and main to tie-up, under contract, dealer outlets. They acquired with reckless abandon numbers of outlets for their products—BUT THEY FORGOT THE COST OF OPERATION. They placed pumps at practically every store—every corner—every business, under a binding contract. They took gallonage from profitable stations to these smaller outlets and as a result they are operating these places at a loss AND THE MOTORING PUBLIC IS CALLED UPON TO SUSTAIN THESE LOSSES BY PAYING MORE MONEY FOR GASOLINE AND OIL DUE ENTIRELY TO A FALACIOUS MARKETING POLICY.

The Wilkerson Oil Company has no "dead-head" locations. Our entire marketing system is confined to one location. We buy our oils and gasoline in tank car lots and unload them at our service stations. We eliminate that costly middle-handling. Yet we sell

CERTIFIED gasoline; uncontaminated by extra handling; certified to meet or exceed U. S. Motor specifications as authorized by the United States Bureau of Standards; and, above all, SAVE YOU MONEY BY OUR SOUND, ECONOMICAL BASIS OF OPERATION.

The Wilkerson system of marketing, "From Tank Car to Your Car," is saving thousands of motorists money on their gasoline and oil. We eliminate bulk plants; tank trucks; credits; collections; and losses in bad accounts.

The elimination of these expensive operations with the consequent loss in handling through exaporation and leakage, enables us to sell at lower prices than voluntarily posted by the major oil companies and still make a fair margin of profit.

The products handled by the Wilkerson Oil Company are absolutely guaranteed—we've built our business on quality merchandise and we will always handle first-grade petroleum products. Also, our specifications will meet or exceed competitive products GRADE FOR GRADE.

To every motorist—Try our plan for one month and compare the cost. Those of you who are buying on credit—try our cash plan and cease paying the cost of credit departments and bad accounts. Buy quality; economically—you'll like it.

New Station Has Largest Drive-in

Seventh of an Acre Provided on Property of Wilkerson Oil Co.

"We are going to save motorists of Hope money on their gasoline and motor oil," Mr. Wilkerson stated Thursday. Yet we will always maintain a high standard quality on all of our merchandise."

The Wilkerson system of marketing, upon which this new business is founded, is that the automobile being on wheels may visit a service station strategically located to give economical service, at less expense than an oil company can build a station next door to its owner.

"People appreciate values and look for them, the motorist now wants his money's worth. They are going to buy wisely, buy quality—not trash—with plenty of respect for the purchasing power of the penny," Mr. Wilkerson claims. "We are going to advertise our plan to the skies as one that saves the motorist money on quality products."

The Wilkerson Oil company's slogan is "From Tank Car to Your Car." The slogan emphasizing the fact that all certified stations eliminate that costly middle-handling.

Capturer of Fleagle Gang Visits in Mena

MENA—Sheriff L. E. Alderman of Lamar, Colo., one of the most widely known peace officers in the United States, made his first visit to Mena, Monday. Sheriff Alderman won nationwide fame a few years ago by his pursuit and capture of the notorious Fleagle gang of bank robbers, three of whom were hanged in Colorado, and Jake Fleagle, the leader, shot to death while resisting arrest near Springfield, Mo. The Colorado officer motored here to John J. H. Reno, arrested by Sheriff John J. H. Reno, while visiting relatives near Acker Springs. Reno was taken back to Lamar to answer a charge of operating a confidence game.

A Tribute to Arkansas

Bruce Barton, author of "The Man Nobody Knows," has written this tribute to Arkansas, the "Wonder State," for the "Wonder State" program of the General Education Board, part of an educational plan to make the country as a whole better acquainted with the individual states—their history, scenic beauty, industries and people.

THEY call it the "Wonder State," and they have named it well. Much of the nation's hard wood is cut from its forests; its oil fields are enormous. Out of its soil comes every form of mineral wealth from aluminum to diamonds—yes, diamonds—and almost every crop that can be grown anywhere in our land.

Does the West boast of its wheat and corn and alfalfa? Arkansas has them all. Is the South proud of its cotton and rice? They belong to Arkansas, too. Do the northern and the eastern states glory in the fruit of their orchards? Arkansas has originated more than fifty varieties of apples; it has the largest peach orchard on the continent.

And there is another kind of treasure in this land that once belonged to the Arkansas Indians, a treasure more precious than that for which the Spaniards dug. The flame of it has been carried around the world; from every country men and women make their pilgrimages to find in the active waters of Hot Springs the glorious gift of health. As far back as 1832, the national government recognized that the springs were too precious for private ownership. In that year they, and the acres around them, were set aside as the first of our national parks.

Upon the rich foundations of Nature's bounty an ambitious and gracious people have erected a mighty commonwealth. "The People Rule" is her motto, and true to it she was one of the first states to enact a minimum wage law for the protection of her workers and among the first to adopt a public school system.

Only two women have ever sat in the United States Senate and Mrs. Hattie Caraway of Arkansas is one of them—the only elected woman senator and the only woman in that body today.

In Arkansas' capital city, Little Rock, is published one of the pioneer American newspapers.

Life is colorful and charming in the "Wonder State." Her people know well how to live as well as to work; visitors from many states have learned the warmth of their welcome. Here the sportsman finds wild duck and geese in numbers that darken the sky, and streams stocked from a fish hatchery that will one day be the largest in the world.

For those who love to picnic and explore there are mountains of quartz that reflect the colors of the rainbow, white cliffs of chalk that rival the English cliffs at Dover, the beautiful Ozarks, valleys and rolling prairies, and the general expanse and privileges of two of our national forests.

Arkansas! To her General Motors offers sincere tribute, and, on her behalf, extends to the nation a cordial invitation to visit her with the assurance of happy days.

Farmer Victim of Unusual Accident

Wiley R. Swilley of Union County Struck on Head by Falling Bell

EL DORADO.—Wiley R. Swilley, aged 64, well-known Union county farmer, died in a hospital here late Wednesday from injuries suffered last Thursday when an old-fashioned dinner bell fell from its stand and struck him on the head.

Mr. Swilley was repairing the bell at his home, three miles west of Smackover, when the platform collapsed and the heavy bell fell to the ground. He was brought to the hospital shortly after the accident and died at 5:40 Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Swilley was a member of a pioneer family. He is survived by his wife, six sons, Wharton Swilley of El Dorado, Austin of LeCompte, La., Ernest of Longview, Texas, Jack of Henderson, Texas, and Buster and W. R. of Smackover; and five daughters, Mrs. Vivian Hammon, Mrs. Aline Reuter and Mrs. Lois Jones of El Dorado, Mrs. Elva Slaughter of Dumas City and Mrs. Ruby Guiley of Kilgore, Texas.

Mr. Swilley was a lifelong member of the Swilley's Chapel Methodist church. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, with the Rev. J. W. Johnston, Methodist minister, officiating. Burial will be in the Hicks cemetery near Smackover.

Quarterly License Plan Is Popular

Registration Close to 20,000 for Second Quarter Stickers

Windshield stickers showing quarterly payment of motor vehicle license fees will show an increase during the second quarter of almost 100 per cent over the first quarter, according to an estimate by state highway department officials.

Judging from the number of requests sent in by various county collectors for additional blank forms, the number of motor vehicles operating under the second quarter stickers will run close to 20,000 before the expiration of the quarter.

It has not been announced whether windshield stickers will be issued for the third quarter. Under the law, the purchasing motor vehicle license plates after July 1 may pay one-half the annual fee and receive the plates. Even should the highway commission authorize issuance of third quarter stickers, it is believed probable that a large proportion of motor vehicle operators will prefer to pay the semi-annual license fee on July 1 and obtain the regular license tag for use on the vehicle.

New Directors Named for Kansas City Southern

KANSAS CITY.—(AP)—Five new members are on the board of directors of the Kansas City Southern railroad, three of them as the result of a compromise with the Chicago Great Western railroad, holder of 104,500 shares of the line's stock.

In accordance with a previous agreement, the stock owned by the Great Western was not voted at an election of directors Tuesday, but three members, considered friendly to its interests were elected. They are John H. Wiles, Kansas City; L. Brooks Leavitt, New York and John A. Nixon, Omaha.

Charles E. Ames and Francis R. Randolph, both of New York, replaced Arthur Turnbull and John Sorenson of New York.

No Mews Are Bad News

"Rubio," refusing to be kittenish and acting catly instead, wouldn't count the mews when this young Spanish naval lieutenant tried to get her to purr for the sound film cameras. Instead, she stood up for her rights, as this picture shows—thus probably averting the cat-astrophe of being whipped with a cat-o'-nine-tails. The scene is in New York Harbor aboard a visiting Spanish training ship—which is NOT a cat boat.

$200 Colt Begins Year as Favorite of Circuit

CLEVELAND.—(AP)—A $200 colt nobody wanted two years ago looms as one of the leading contenders for pacing honors in the Grand Circuit this year.

He is Mac-I-Win, owned by C. F. Crowley, of Cleveland, vice-president of the Ohio short ship circuit. Crowley purchased him in the sales ring at the Lexington "trots" two years ago when no one else was bidding, and placed him in the hands of the Urbana, Ohio, trainer, Dr. H. M. Parrish.

Last year Mac-I-Win was unbeaten on the half-mile rings. Taken to the big time for a look at the top, he finished second to the season's leader in his first start over the mile, and finished the season the leading race-winning two-year-old pacer. He paced a mile in 2:05 flat, best recorded all season.

An American delegate has informed the disarmament conference that the United States doesn't consider a baton an offensive weapon. Again proving that it depends on whose foot the shoe is on.

Squirrel Season To Open May 16

Squirrels May Be Killed From Middle of May to June 15

The season for shooting squirrel will open throughout the state on May 15 and will continue until June 15, it was announced by Guy Amulet, secretary of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission. Between June 15 and October 1 it will be unlawful to shoot squirrels in any part of Arkansas but the autumn open season will begin October 1 and continue until January 1. All special squirrel laws or laws applicable to certain counties were held invalid by the supreme court, therefore the general law governs.

College Illustrator's Works Find Demand

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Football teams aren't the only things around Notre Dame that "draw well."

In fact, student friends of Joe Lopker, senior in the fine arts school, nominate him for "all-America" collegiate illustrator.

Creator of a wide variety of drawings for local campus publications, Lopker has had his works reprinted in and borrowed by many contemporary college magazines.

Lopker, whose home is St. Joseph, Mich., uses pastel, water color, pen-and-ink, charcoal, oil and the lithograph pencil with equal facility and effectiveness.
